

Ageing wi' Opportunity in Aberdeen City

A consultation document on the future Joint Commissioning Strategy for Older People

2013-2023

To the older people of Aberdeen, patients, service users, carers, citizens and professionals:

Welcome to the consultation on the first Joint Commissioning Strategy for Older People in Aberdeen City for the period 2013-2023.

The Strategy will provide the framework on which health and social care services for people aged 65 and over will be commissioned over the next 10 years, together with the commitment of NHS Grampian and Aberdeen City Council through the Aberdeen City Community Health and Social Care Partnership to work in partnership with our citizens and other organisations, including our Change Fund Partners (ACVO and Scottish Care) to provide high quality, responsive services that deliver on the desired outcomes for the older people of the City.

This consultation starts with what older people have already told us they need from health and social care. It focuses on outcomes and how we can achieve these by working together in partnership.

We welcome your contribution to the development of this Joint Commissioning Strategy through this consultation.

Jargon Buster and Plain English

Health and social care language can often be complex and unfamiliar to you. In this document we have done our best to minimise the use of big words in order to make the document as straightforward and understandable as possible. If there is anything that is not clear please contact us at the address given at the end of this document.

This document is also available in large print, other formats and other languages, on request.

Please contact Aberdeen City Council on 01224 522856 or 522047 or NHS Grampian's Corporate Communications Department on 01224 551116 for a copy
